ST_BRD_CIT_009	Your next steps	Update business rules for cancelled events - Your next steps section	Update business rules for cancelled events - Your next steps section	As a client, I want to ensure that I no longer see cancelled events in "your next steps" section of the citizenship status tracker so that I have a clear understanding of what the next steps of my application should be.  NB: Even if an event is cancelled, that does not mean the application status of the event will be changed to cancelled. It will show as 'in progress' within the "Details of your application status". The only thing that will change is that in the application history section, a client will see when an event is cancelled.	Given that clients will want to have a clear understanding of the next steps of their application, when "your next steps" section is viewed, then do not show cancelled events.	High	Background: Currently, there are no business rules on how to deal with events that have been cancelled. Cancelled events continue to appear in Cit Tracker even after they've been cancelled.	16-Sep-22	Alexandra Nedov	No	Yes	Yes
ST_BRD_CIT_010	Application history	Update business rules for cancelled events - Application history section	Update business rules for cancelled events - Application history section	As a client, I want to see cancelled events in the "Application history" section of the citizenship status tracker so that I can know that an event was cancelled and I can see the instruction to wait for a new invite.	Given that clients will want to see a history of activities for their application, when an event is cancelled and the "Application history" section is viewed, then the client should see that an event was cancelled, when the event was cancelled, and the instruction to wait for a new invite.	High	Background: Currently, there are no business rules on how to deal with events that have been cancelled. Cancelled events continue to appear in Cit Tracker even after they've been cancelled.	16-Sep-22	Alexandra Nedov	No	Yes	Yes
ST_BRD_CIT_011	Your next steps, Application history	Update the start and end time of the citizenship test events to account for time change zone	Update the start and end time of the online citizenship test events (to account for time change zone)- similar to the online citizenship test:	As a client, I want to see the accurate start and end time (time specified in GCMS) for my online citizenship test event in the citizenship status tracker (taking into consideration my time zone), so that I can ensure I take my test within the acceptable time period.  NB: The data should be reflected in 'Your next steps' and 'Application history'.	Given that clients refer to the CIT status tracker to know the time expectation for taking their online citizenship test event, when the 'Citizenship Test' event status is viewed, then ensure that the start and end time for the test shown in the CIT status tracker corresponds to the accurate time (time specified in GCMS) irrespective of the time zone of the client.	Medium	  information that it pulls from GCMS.  Please refer to screenshot. In that example, if the test was scheduled to end at 11:59pmEST on Feb 20, 2022 in GCMS, but the client is in PST zone, the Tracker will show that they have until Feb 21, 2022 (resulting from 11:59pm+3H) to complete the test.  It only affects clients who are in Central, Mountain, or Pacific Time Zones, as the information pulled from GCMS is displayed in whichever time zone the IRCC user has their PC set to, but the Cit Tracker only displays information in Eastern time.  The result is that because the Tracker does not show the time the client's testing window ends (11:59pm EST), clients from the three time zones above who check their testing window in the Tracker, will see that it displays that their testing window ends the next day, because of the spill over to after midnight. This is inconsistent with their invitation, which is always listed in EST.  CPPB had worked with Alan Li (EDW) when they were building the logic for the online test, because the same thing was happening, although in CPPB's case was being displayed in our internal reports, instead of a client facing tool.	16-Sep-22	Alexandra Nedov	No	Yes	No
ST_BRD_CIT_012	Your next steps	Update language text for CIT tracker	Update text in "Your next steps" to add clarification that "Citizenship test" in 'Details of your application' section will still show as "in-progress" even after the test has been completed until it has been reviewed/confirmed by IRCC.	As a client, I want to see an added clarification to "my next steps" in the citizenship status tracker that states "Citizenship test will still show as 'in progress' even after the test has been completed until it has been reviewed/confirmed by IRCC" so that I can have a better understanding of the details that I see in the tracker.	Given that clients refer to the status tracker to know the next steps after completing the online citizenship test, when "my next steps" is viewed in the tracker, then the text should include "Citizenship test will still show as 'in progress' even after the test has been completed until it has been reviewed/confirmed by IRCC"	Medium	  16-Sep-22	Alexandra Nedov	No	Yes	No
ST_BRD_CIT_013	Application history	Update Activity status for clients that have completed their citizenship oath - communication message	Update Activity status for clients that have completed their citizenship oath - communication message	As a client, I want to see a communication message in the 'activity status update: citizenship oath' of the "Application history" section that reflects 'Congratulations! You are now a Canadian citizen as of [Oath Date]' so that I do not have a misinterpretation of the date I became a Canadian citizen.  NB: The Oath date in the communication message should be mapped to GCMS "CIT Effective Date".  	Given that clients refer to the status tracker to know when their citizenship oath status is completed, when "Application history" is viewed in the tracker, then the text should include "Congratulations! You are now a Canadian citizen as of [Oath Date]"	High	Application history   Background: For those who have had their ceremony, the history says when the oath was scheduled for and then when the activity status was updated. Example (see screenshot):  For the case above, the person actually became Canadian on the date of the oath (Oct 6), but the activity was only updated the day after (Oct 7). This could cause confusion for the client in terms of the date when they became Canadian (they could wonder if their citizenship date is oct 6 or oct 7). Should we add a bullet in the top portion to say something like "Congratulations! You are now a Canadian citizen as of October 6, 2022."	11-Oct-22	Myreille Besner	No	Yes	No
